Additional Info:

Hey guys! We're really looking forward to the next student forum. All your concerns from the first student forum are currently being worked on! We'll be spending some time to talk to you about the upcoming selection process for next year's Board of Directors for the Students' Association. I highly encourage all of you to consider this, as it's a fantastic chance to be highly involved with the student community and the College. We'll be spending the bulk of our time talking about Student Services. We want to know how services can be better streamlined to help students better! Check out this website! <http://www.algonquincollege.com/studentssupportservices/index.htm>

We can't wait to see you all on Thursday!
